A band of Superheroes making our community better

Last month Batawa participated in a Spring tradition - Trash Bash. This is an annual event where residents all across the Bay of Quinte come together and clean up the litter from our communities. This annual event coincides with the provincial clean-up day. Over the years Trash Bash has allowed us to meet some amazing individuals/families and businesses. This year was no different.

The week leading up to Trash Bash, Batawa Development Corporation received an email from an individual who frequently enjoys the Batawa trails (big shout out to Quinte MTB and the volunteers who maintain these trails). He was concerned about some dumping he had found when he was out riding his bike. After contacting the City of Quinte West and us (the land owners) he took it upon himself to organize a group of volunteers to clean up this specific area.

This is a great example of what Trash Bash means. People who roll up their sleeves and do something good. For every person who thinks it is ok to dump unwanted items out in our environment, there are always groups like this who make our communities and environment a better place than how they found it.
